

Alain Marciano received support from the Mercatus Center and help from the library of George Mason University to work on Buchanan papers (as part of a large project to write a biography of James M. Buchanan).