

Tarun Ramadorai

Referring to the manuscript titled “Reference Dependence in the Housing Market”, consider the following disclosure statement.

All parties from which Tarun Ramadorai has received significant financial considerations are listed in his publicly available website at: www.tarunramadorai.com. As far as he is aware, none of these sources of financial considerations have any direct interest in the topic of this paper, meaning that they are not likely to come under the provided definition of “interested parties.” All significant positions that Tarun Ramadorai holds are also publicly available on his CV, which is also available at www.tarunramadorai.com. His paid and unpaid affiliations do not place any formal restrictions on his published work.